Dear Sir or Madam,

Referring to the EU Directive 2011/65 (including its extension by Official Journal 2015/863/EU – RoHS III) of the European Parliament and of the Council on the restriction of the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment (RoHS) as well as the EU Chemicals Regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006 (REACH), we hereby declare that none of the articles we deliver to you contain any substances that are prohibited in accordance with the above-mentioned directives and regulations, or that their maximum permissible concentration in percent by mass has been exceeded.

If the quantity of restricted substances exceeds the legal limits, we will inform you about this in accordance with the applicable regulations.

LEAB Automotive GmbH does not manufacture substances or preparations and is therefore not subject to registration as a downstream user within the meaning of the EU chemicals regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006 (REACH).

Within the supply chain, we are not aware that the articles we deliver to you contain substances from the currently valid candidate list (SVHC: Substances of Very High Concern) with a concentration of more than 0.1 percent by mass.

Furthermore, we have received confirmation from our suppliers that they comply with the current RoHS Directive.

The current SVHC list can be found at: <https://echa.europa.eu/de/candidate-list-table>

Within the supply chain, we undertake to inform you immediately of any deviations from the currently valid RoHS Directive and REACH Regulation.

Our suppliers are obliged to check their articles for conformity with the currently valid regulations and to inform us immediately of any deviations.
